Life In Lubbock TX

(Doing outreach in the community of Phoenix)

The temperature here in Lubbock is dropping as we continue into winter. I'm not freezing to death yet, however after living in Miami for so long, it's starting to feel like I might. The last couple of months have been jammed packed with finals, AIM trips, and projects. Between AIM and school it has been really hectic, but in a good way. We took the Aim class to Phoenix, Arizona on a mission trip this term. We helped Sean McClue, who is our missionary planting a church in downtown Phoenix. We were there for a week helping with their ministries. Being down there was a little like being back in Miami. We did several VBS's for families in the inner-city, helped the homeless, held Bible studies, and went out into the community to witness.

Being in Phoenix was great and refreshing. I was really glad we got to go and be a help to the people that are working so hard to be a light there in that city.

Sunset International Bible Institute

We have finished the first term and are now going into the second one. Time is going by so fast. The classes I'm taking this term are missions, Galatians, Isaiah, and confident teaching.

All my classes went really good last term. I passed them all and am now diving into my new ones. One of the classes that I'm looking forward to the most is Galatians. In this class we are studying the book in a really neat way. Not only are we having lessons on the book. But all the homework revolves around us writing a personal commentary on the book. This method of learning is really inspiring, as we are not only learning about the book but are also discovering what is inside it at the same time.

AIM

This AIM year has been really exciting. Three of the AIMers were baptized this year. Two of them were Tiras and Christafer. Christafer is in my area church group. He did not grow up in the church but his uncle attends Sunset and persuaded him to go to AIM. While he has been here he has fallen in love with Christ and after some study, decided to surrender his life. He and I have Bible studies every week and he is growing closer to God. Tiras did grow up in the church, but never gave his life to God. After studying the book of Luke, he was convicted and was baptized.

(This year's AIM class)

It has only been three months, yet God has been doing so much work in the lives of this AIM class and the people that they interact with. It is amazing to see Him work.

The AIMers have filled out their team and field preferences. We will now start the process of putting the teams together. Please be praying for us as we are forming these teams.

God at work

Every Sunday we take some of the AIMers to Tulia, TX to work with the church there (we call it an area church). Tulia is a really small town here in TX. However, the church there has been working on reaching out to their community. Through the outreaches we have made with the church, our AIMers met a family there. They invited them to an event for the community that the church was holding. One of their sons, Blake, came and started coming to the church services. Our AIMers and the church there have been studying the Bible with him and last week he was baptized. After he was baptized, the door to their house was opened up and now the whole family is coming to services. It is always amazing to me what God can do with a single seed.

Special thanks

I want to give a special thanks to everyone who supports me. Without you nothing that I have been blessed to do and am doing would be possible.
